

a

The diagram consists of two straight lines that intersect at a point. One line runs from the top-left towards the bottom-right, and the other runs from the bottom-left towards the top-right. They intersect in the center of the frame. The angle formed in the top-right quadrant by the intersection is labeled with the letter 'a'.